1. Stephen gives an overview of the presence of God throughout Israel's salvation history (Acts 7:42–50). He moves from God's presence in the tabernacle, to the temple, to a quote from Isaiah 66:1–2. What is his point about God's presence? Remembering the accusations against Stephen in Acts 6:13–14, what indictment against the Jewish leaders is he implying?

What does he accuse them of?

2. Who were the Samaritans?
